PROFILE

Hey there! I'm an enthusiastic software developer with a background in aviation as a pilot, having flown for Samoa Airways and Jetstar New Zealand.

I've developed strong analytical and problem-solving skills, essential for both the cockpit and software development.

My aviation experience has ingrained in me attention to detail, multitasking abilities, and a focus on safety and quality assurance – all of which seamlessly translate into the world of software.

Beyond my professional pursuits, my passion for sports and fitness highlights my commitment to personal growth and well-being.

Now, as a software developer, I'm eager to leverage my unique skill set to contribute to your team's success. With my effective communication, strong work ethic, and innate curiosity, I'm well-positioned to collaborate and deliver software solutions that exceed expectations.

EXPERIENCE

At Techtorium, I completed a foundational one-year New Zealand diploma course in Information Systems. Through this program, I gained exposure to coding in C#, web development with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, as well as basic skills in SQL, technical documentation, and project management.

Transitioning to Dev Academy, a 17 week immersive program, I focused on advancing my skills as a full-stack developer. With a primary emphasis on JavaScript and TypeScript, I delved into React, RESTful APIs, HTML, and CSS. Through collaborative projects and industry-standard tools, I gained practical experience in teamwork, agile processes, and delivering presentations, preparing me for success in the tech industry.
